WAINWRIGHT, ALBERTA

CHRISTMAS NUMBER

OF WHICH THE TOWN IS JUSTLY PROUD

WAINWRIGHT'S $200,000 EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTION
Built in the summer of 1910 and under the direction of a school board which was thought to be extravagant with the spending of the people's money. It is now found that the school is not large enough and will be added to next year.

WAINWRIGHT IS CENTRE OF EDUCATION

Town Has Reason to 'Feel Proud of Its Fine
School

COMPETENT TEACHERS

School Must be Enlarged to Provide for Increased Attendance

Wainwright is fast becoming framed throughout the province as a seat of learning and the attention of educational associates are turning towards this centre, where the young are being trained in the way they should go by instructors whose ability is recognized locally.

Two years ago, certain citizens offered opposition to the construction of such a large building as was built. They claimed that the amount of money being expended was altogether too large and that the time would not come for a good many years when it would be completely occupied. An outlay of about $20,000 was made. One of the best principals of the province was engaged. A staff of competent assistants was secured and the result today is noticeable from the fact that a great change has been brought about.
Not only is every room occupied and filled to overflowing but it is now necessary to build a wing to the building which will be in use by the increase expected next year.

This town has been especially fortunate during the past few years in having selected the very best men available as school trustees. Educational interests have been looked after most ably and pushed into the important place they now occupy. No pains or expense have been spared to make Wainwright a seat of learning second to none in Alberta and the results of these efforts give rise for no small gratification.
Scholars and pupils from larger towns in Alberta are envying themselves of the opportunity to learn from teachers, who serve other towns and cities have tried in vain to secure.

Wainwright's school is one of the most important features in connection with the town. It is recognized throughout the province generally as being second to none, and when more rooms are added and the staff increased to provide for present and future needs the importance of Wainwright as an educational centre will be increased in like manner.

In connection with the school board, special commendation is due such men as Ex-Trustee P.
E. Ross, Chairman Washburn and in fact all those who had anything to do with the construction of such a fine and commodious building. The present school is a most efficient one and, in the place of those who are retiring this year, capable men have been selected to look after educational affairs locally.

It is known that many families have settled in the town for no other reason than the fact that excellent educational facilities were available and, in the case of those who wish to give their children a thorough education, this feature is a most important one.

WHAT THE G.T.P. HAS DONE FOR ITS BEST DIVISIONAL POINT

Were it not for the fact that the Grand Trunk Pacific saw fit to pass through this section of Alberta, Wainwright would have been unheard of and even at this time would not have been born. But the G.T.P. did come and Wainwright stands for something more than the name of one of the railway company's most prominent officials. It is a thriving and prosperous railway town with a pay roll to the employees, stationed here, of $15,000 per month, and in a fair way to become a centre where the pay roll will amount to a great deal more.

On July 13th, 1908, the first steel entered Wainwright, and the few pioneers who were then here began feeling the fire of an enthusiasm which has never died out. The stability of a town was given, for the railway had come. It passed through the town continued on to Edmonton and is now being constructed at a rapid rate towards the Pacific Coast. And when the line is completed and the line of steel connects the Atlantic with the Pacific what can be expected? Will not the towns along that line of railway share the same happy fate which those along the C.P.R. have experienced? And will not the divisional points, and Wainwright is one of the foremost, share a much happier fate? Time alone and the certainty of history repeating itself will prove it.

Those claiming to know assert that the C. N. R. from Vermilion to Medicine Hat will undoubtedly pass through Wainwright. Survey lines have been made, although the outstanding facts of the past few months, however, have shown that greater railway development is assured for Wainwright and that branch lines into the town are assured. A line from Battleford is considered in the light of a certainty. The grade has already reached the Alberta border and is being held up at present from no cause, attributable to the G.T.P. It is thought that the steel will enter the town in the course of the next eight months.

Those claiming to know assert that the C. N. R. from Vermilion to Medicine Hat will undoubtedly pass through Wainwright. Survey lines have been made, although the final location has not yet been plotted. This being true, Wainwright can then boast of two branches entering the town inside of the next twelve months.

Well founded evidence is at hand to prove that the officials of the G.T.P. have faith in this particular divisional point. The geographical location of Wainwright is seen from the map to be nothing short of ideal. It is midway between Prince Rupert and Westport and centrally located between Edmonton and Saskatoon. That it will eventually become a distributing centre of no small import is assured, and it is earnestly believed that this time is by no means far distant.

WAINWRIGHT IN THE SUMMER OF 1908

A little more than four years ago, the piece of landscape on which Wainwright now stands was practically uninhabited, for few settlers at that time knew where the townsite of Wainwright was to be staked out. A few pioneers had constructed rude shacks about two miles east of here, which they termed Denwood. The location of the townsite was a matter of conjecture, and when, in the early part of 1908, the townsite was placed on sale by the Grand Trunk Pacific the business portion, and a few residential lots were readily snapped up by those who intended trying their fortune in what at that time appeared to be, and really was, the most strategical location for a town of the several G. T. P. divisional points decided on.

THE STEEL ARRIVES

On July 13th, the steel gang entered the town. The townsite was uninhabited, except for those who had pitched their tent and were taking their rations of pork and beans with the highest hopes and expectations. The arrival of the steel saw the real start of the town. In a small tent the first board of trade was organized, the first president of which was Mr. P. E. Ross. Active steps were taken to improve the town by special subscription and the first necessity to be gained was a pump, which still stands on Second Avenue. Pioneers refer to this with no little pride, for at that time not even a village council transacted business, which was only natural from the fact that not enough inhabitants were here to incorporate as a village.

INCORPORATION AS A VILLAGE

In 1911, Wainwright was incorporated as a village with a scant population of some three hundred souls. The enthusiasm, however, was here. Residents believed that the time was not far distant when incorporation as a town would follow and finally as a city. A council was formed and more extensive improvements began. Cement sidewalks were laid. The streets in the business part of the town were improved. A school board was elected and few of those in Wainwright at that time will still recall the keenness of the contest at the first school board election. The board of trade was doing fine work. It was backed by the village and was in a position to do something for Wainwright.

- 1910 -

THE VILLAGE BECOMES A TOWN

On August 14th, 1910, Wainwright was incorporated as a town. The construction of a large and commodious school was provided for about the same time. By fall it was constructed, and this building, the first public structure to be erected, is now a great deal too small to afford the efficiency which the present school board is determined to have. On September 23rd, the first election for a town council board was held. Mr. H. Y. Pawling, one of the earliest settlers here, was selected as mayor, against another pioneer, Mr. George Richardson. W. J. Musson, W. B. Crawford, S. J. Coyey, W. E. Mills, T. G. Cook and Dr. Watson made up the council and the new town was away to a good start with responsible and capable men at the head of affairs.

RESULTS HAVE FOLLOWED FAST

During the two years which have followed the election of the town's first council board, noticeable results have followed in a rapid manner. Last year, money to the extent of about $35,000, was raised by way of debenture for the construction of permanent sidewalks, the improvement of the streets, the building of a town hall and the construction of a municipal rink. Other important improvements have also followed and the next item on the municipal programme is the installation of a water works system and electric lights.

The board of trade has been an important factor in the growth which has resulted during the past two years, for through this body many new settlers have wended their way towards Wainwright and the adjacent district. Especially during the past year has the board of trade been particularly active and under the presidency of Mr. S. E. James has flourished as never before.

AND THE HAPPY GREETINGS OF A GLAD NEW YEAR

POLITICAL MEETING WAS BIG SUCCESS

Conservative Association Elects Officers for 1913 Amid Display of Much Enthusiasm

THE SPEECH MAKERS

Sumptuous Banquet at which Buffalo Steak was Enjoyed

Conservatives from practically all parts of the Wainwright district and from the town as well assembled here on Friday evening last to attend the reorganization meeting and election of officers for the local association. The gathering, which afterward took the form of a smoker, was addressed by several prominent politicians among them were Mr. O. Bush, of Edmonton and Mr. J. G. Clark, conservative candidate in Vermilion.

The election of officers, which was first held, resulted as follows:—Honorary President, Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden; Honorary Vice-Pres., Mr. E. Michener, M. L. A.; President, G. L. Hudson; Vice-Pres., P. W. Deverson; Secretary, W. E. Mills; Treasurer, W. J. Musson. An executive committee, composed of W. J. McPhee, H. W. Crampton, W. S. Dewar, R. Komu, U. Girard, W. B. Moffatt, Jas. Ward, S. Sorenson and J. Reid, was also elected.

In opening the smoker, Mr. Hudson, who presided, gave a brief address on political matters, after which Mr. Bush spoke forcibly on both provincial and federal politics. His plea for a better form of government at Edmonton was particularly strong. He referred to considerable length to such matters as the A. & G. W. Railway affair and the exhibition of gross incompetence which he claimed had been displayed. In referring to federal politics, Mr. Bush dealt principally with the granting of natural resources and Mr. Borden's naval policy.

Mr. Clark dealt principally with politics provincially and the experimental farms came in for much criticism. He said that they had proved an absolute failure and that even among farmers who lived nearby were looked upon as a huge joke. He voiced the sentiments of Mr. Bush when he said that the Sifton government should be turned out. He appealed to every conservative to take up the fight for better and cleaner politics.

Several songs were enjoyed throughout the evening, Messrs. W. S. Dewar, H. B. Walker and James Stones entertaining the gathering at intervals. Especially amusing was one sung by Mr. Walker and entitled, "Take Me and Break Me". Mr. Dewar is Scotch, Mr. Walker has the Irish brogue down "pat" and Mr. Stones has an assortment of English humor and pathos, in songs and recitations.

Mr. Willard Moffatt, who is recognized as a coming politician, spoke on Mr. Borden's naval policy and made an eloquent appeal on behalf of conservatism generally. Mr. Hudson, who acted as chairman for the evening, made fitting remarks on political matters. The newly elected officers also spoke and towards midnight a sumptuous banquet was enjoyed, at which buffalo steak was greatly enjoyed. Another banquet of this kind is spoken for.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY NEW OFFICERS ELECTED

Archie McLean is New President for Ensuing Year

At a recent meeting of the Wainwright Agricultural Society, Mr. A. McLean was elected as president. Mr. Thomas Sheridan as vice president and Secretary Bowerman re-elected for another year. A statement of the finances of the society was submitted by the secretary and showed a tidy surplus on hand.

Other business for the year was dealt with and matters wound up. It is the intention to make next year's fair a greater success than the one on September 17th. The new president can be depended on to handle next year's society in a capable manner.

JUDGING OF WHEAT RESULTS IN THREE CORNERED DRAW

Impossible for Judges to Determine which is Best Sample

"Three of a kind" is the manner in which "Ab" Mills, of the Wainwright Realty Company described the result of the judging of wheat samples brought into town by farmers of this district, in an effort to capture the $10 cash prize which was hung out.

"The judging," said Mr. Mills, to the STAR yesterday, "was done by two of the most competent judges of wheat it was possible to secure. Mr. Diefenbach and Mr. Mohr who make this their business at the local mill find no difference between three samples."

It is not known whose samples these are, for the individual bags are numbered. The names of the particular farmers will be published next week. Mr. Mills is of sixes and sevens as to what to do and does not know whether he will put up two additional prizes or have the three winners draw for the prize.

HANDSOME CASE OF PIPES

The case of pipes which has been on display at the Red Cross Pharmacy for some time was raffled off this week, the lucky ticket being held by Mr. George Beaudry. The pipes are handsome ones and are valued at $50.

Young ladies of the town announced a leap year ball for Tuesday, December 31st, to be held in the Elite Theatre. An orchestra has been engaged from Viking and an enjoyable time is assured.

eloquent appeal on behalf of conservatism generally. Mr. Hudson, who acted as chairman for the evening, made fitting remarks on political matters. The newly elected officers also spoke and towards midnight a sumptuous banquet was enjoyed, at which buffalo steak was greatly enjoyed. Another banquet of this kind is spoken for.

ELITE THEATRE OPENED BY ENJOYABLE DANCE

First Function of Its Kind Since Auditorium was Burned

A very enjoyable dance was held in the Elite Theatre on Tuesday evening, when upwards of seventy-five couples attended the first dance at which orchestral music has been enjoyed since the Knights of Pythias Ball in June. The occasion was the opening of the new theatre by the enterprising owners who boast of a combined dance hall, theatre and moving picture show, second to none in any western town.

The music, which was rendered by the newly organized Wainwright Orchestra, was all that could be expected and the manner in which the encores were given showed the popularity of their well-chosen selections. Several extras, music for which was furnished by Mrs. Mills and Miss Mohr, were received in a similar manner. It is to be hoped that the services of the local orchestra will be retained for future events of this kind.

HOCKEY FANS SAW REAL CLASSY GAME

Town Team Lost First Game of Season to Bank-School Aggregation

Hockey fans saw the first match of the season on Wednesday evening, when the town team clashed with the bank-school aggregation, the latter by a score of 3-2. The game was surprisingly fast from the first clasp of the bell and continued throughout the entire match.

The winning team found it necessary to seek outside material and it was due to this fact that the score resulted in their favour. Lally played a very aggressive game for the victors and was responsible for one of their tallies. Trenchout played a strong game and lodged the disc in the net for the other two counters. Smith also showed up well and showed that he is as strong a man on the ice as his reputation as such indicates.

For the town team, it might be said that they fought hard luck, for the puck was around their opponents' net during almost the whole of the second half. The most spectacular player on the ice was Ferguson, who, it will be remembered, played with Tofield in 1910. Ferguson has a shot with some kick to it and skates exceptionally strong. He scored both goals for the town.

From the class of hockey seen here on Wednesday night, it is evident that local fans can look forward to a season of exciting hockey. The next game will be played on Wednesday evening next when the G. T. P. team meets the town.

A Christmas entertainment is being held at the Methodist Church tonight.

G. T. P. BOILERMAKERS' STRIKE HAS BEEN SETTLED

Satisfactory Settlement Reached and Men be Taken Back Again

Reports from Ottawa announce that the machinists and boilermaker strike on the G. T. P. has been settled and that the men will return to work. This will also permit of the opening of the new G. T. P. shops at Transcona.

The trouble between the striking machinists and boilermakers has been hanging fire for more than a year, the men laying down their tools in August 1911. With them went about ten employees who were stationed here. It is further stated, however, that not all of the men will be taken back.

CELEBRATED FIFTY YEARS OF HAPPY MARRIED LIFE

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Martin Celebrate Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Martin, pioneers in the Wainwright district celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage on Monday evening last by being at home to a large number of their friends in the Methodist Church. The evening was most enjoyably spent, the ladies Aid of the church serving a most sumptuous wedding dinner. The church tables were decorated most beautifully and appropriately for the happy occasion.

After the dinner, their granddaughter, Miss Mary Martin, sang "Put on Your Old Grey Bonnet". The many short congratulatory speeches by the guests indicated the high esteem in which these old friends are held. A solo, "Eye Grown so Used to You" added another appropriate note to this rather unusual but glad event.

MOTION PICTURES BEING ENJOYED

The first moving pictures in the new Elite Theatre were shown on Wednesday night before a packed house. The pictures were especially clean and the class of those shown on the opening evening and those at last night's show augurs well for the attendance at the new theatre. Instead of having three changes a week as motion picture patrons were accustomed to at the old Auditorium, the proprietors of the Elite have gone a step further and are changing their pictures each night.

Mr. P. W. Deverson, manager of the Wainwright Lumber Co. has been busily engaged for the past week or more moving his stock of lumber from the premises on Third Avenue to the lots opposite Mr. W. S. Goulet's blacksmith shop.

FINDING OF INFANT RESULTS IN CHARGE FOR MURDER

Young Woman Employed at Wainwright Hotel Charged with Birth and Murder of Child Found in Cess Pool

Jury Brought in Verdict to Effect that Infant Had Bled to Death and Asked for Fulltest Investigation

After several adjournments, the jury, which was empaneled by Coroner Dr. Little to sit on the alleged case of infanticide, supposedly having been committed after which the child was thrown into the cess pool at the Wainwright, brought in a verdict on Tuesday morning last to the effect that the child had met its death shortly after birth through the mother's neglect and that the evidence of several witnesses might indicate that Mrs. Mary King gave birth to a child about the first of the month. Foreman Washburn, in bringing in the verdict, recommended that a full investigation be made.

The preliminary hearing of the charge against Mrs. Mary King was concluded yesterday, with the exception of argument on behalf of the defence which will be presented this afternoon by Counsel H. V. Fieldhouse.

The accused is charged with the murder of an infant child, alleged to have been born early in November. Six witnesses were examined on behalf of the Crown, the case for which was conducted by Mr. P. V. Pelton, a clever young lawyer of the city of Edmonton. Several women, who were employed at the Wainwright Hotel at the time of the alleged birth, gave evidence as to the conduct and physical condition of the accused prior and subsequent thereto, and Dr. Watson and Middlemass were examined as to the probable result of such condition.

After adducing evidence to prove the birth of a child to the accused, the prosecution called witnesses to show that if any such child has been born, it must have been spirited away, as Mrs. King, went about her work within a day or two after the alleged birth, and no infant was seen with her. Mr. Parsons, the town scavenger, was called to prove the finding of the body of a dead infant in the cess pool at the Wainwright Hotel early this month, and Dr. Middlemass gave his opinion that such might have been that of a child born early in November. Dr. Middlemass further stated that as a result of his post-mortem he found that the child had breathed after birth, and had probably bled to death through neglect at time of birth.

On behalf of the defence, several witnesses and relatives of the accused were called to show that her physical condition had been normal for several months, and the improbability of her having given birth to a child on the date mentioned. The evidence was taken by Justice of the Peace Ross before whom the hearing was given. Mr. G. V. Pelton, of Edmonton was here during the hearing and was also present at the inquest.

Whether or not the accused will be committed for trial before a Supreme court Judge will be known tomorrow, when Justice of the Peace Ross gives his decision. Mr. Fieldhouse, counsel for the defence will make his plea on behalf of the accused this afternoon at five o'clock.

The public should bear in mind, however, that the accused woman is not guilty of the charge preferred against her until such time as the evidence proves it, after any necessary remarks such as have been heard during the past few days should be deferred until after the result of the preliminary hearing is announced by the presiding justice.

BANQUET NEXT MONTH

In spite of the fact that the local Board of Trade had almost decided on December 27th, for the celebration of its annual banquet, other important functions in the town will not permit of it being held on that date. President James stated to the STAR yesterday that it would likely be held during the first week in the new year.

Citizens are looking forward to this annual function with considerable interest, for board of trade banquets during the past have proved successful and enjoyable.

FARMER ARGUES THAT BUFFALO IS BIRD IN HAND

There is No Need Changing It for One in the Bush

The Editor of STAR:—

"Re the Buffalo"

On the principle that there are usually two sides to each question, will you allow one who has no interest one way or the other, to suggest, that there will be plenty of time to get to for the removal of the Buffalo when the thousands of acres of unoccupied land immediately adjacent to the town, are being put to some use.

At present there are at least fifteen unoccupied full sections within six miles of the town on the West and N. West and no doubt a similar proportion on the North and East, equally close; this land is doing no earthly benefit to the owners or Wainwright, but quite the reverse, being a breeding place for vermin, and a standing danger from prairie fires.

One need not necessarily be a knacker to state that the land within the park is not good agricultural soil and I think this can perhaps be substantiated by consulting a homestead map of five or six years ago, the districts lying to the West, North and East being colored almost an unbroken red, whereas that to the S. West was almost a solid white, showing that people were not willing to have it at a gift.

An almost identical distribution of poor land in close proximity to good occurs at Pootung La Prairie, where to the S. W. it is extremely indifferent, but in all other directions very valuable.

I can't help thinking that we have an asset in the Park, and a valuable one when the G. T. P. is completed, with its chain of hotels across the Continent.

I believe it is a fact that the Buffalo in their natural state found their way in very small numbers into the foothills of the Rockies, where the grass is rank in summer, and killed by frost in the fall.

Their natural habitat being the open plains and park country lying roughly between the C. and E. railway on the West, and Red River on the East, in this region the native grasses are sweet, and sun cured by fall.

The worthy burgesses of Wainwright, now have in the Park, a bird in hand, which they seem willing to risk for a very doubtful one in the bush viz: sort of miniature Oklahoma boom which would fizzle out in about 24 hours.

Yours Truly,
John Thompson.

Don't forget the hockey match next Monday night between Wainwright and Ryley at the local rink.

WAINWRIGHT ALTA, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20-1912

COINCIDENT with the special issue of the STAR this week, the newspaper is now being published in its new home on Main Street, where ample and sufficient space is afforded for several years to come. It is needless to remind all subscribers that even though a change has been made in the location of the STAR office no change will be made in the strict policy which has been aimed at. Furthermore, it is needless to repeat what this policy is, for readers of these columns have had the opportunity of observing this for themselves.

The STAR represents the town in the truest sense of the word, and were it not for the fact that this publication has held this position for the past four years the town would not be as far ahead in certain ways as it is today. This, few will dispute, for evidence of the fact is seen on many hands. Before choosing a place in western Canada in which to locate, prospect settlers will invariably send for sample copies of the newspaper published in the several towns they have in view, and the town, which, through the different news items of interest in its newspaper, shows the most progressiveness, is without fail the one selected. The result is that a good impression of the town if formed before the town is seen. Settlers arrive and find things as was represented. In this way do newspapers of the style of the STAR do a great deal of good for the town in way of adding to its population.

MAYOR Pawling will retire from the responsibilities of municipal matters on Friday evening next, when the last council meeting of the year will be held. With him, Councillors Musson and Crawford will also seek the cool shades of private life, for they assert that they are through with legislation, directly connected with the municipality. On their withdrawal from the council, a brief resume of what has been done, during the two years they have played their part in town affairs, is perhaps in order.

The retiring Mayor and Councillors have shouldered their criticisms in almost as many instances as they have been subjects of commendation. It was never otherwise with any public servant who ever held office. Even from their most ardent supporters have they been subjected to opposition, due entirely to the natural law that differences of opinion must occur from time to time. It is the opinion of the STAR, however, that Mayor Pawling and Councillors Musson and Crawford have met their responsibilities fairly and squarely, deciding such matters, as came before their surveillance and attention, in a manner befitting their broad-mindedness and public spirit. Even if criticisms have been passed on these men, and the same can be said of every council from the first village board down to the present time, their decisions in the majority of cases, whether right or wrong, have been admired with the realization that they have stood true to their convictions.

The foundation for a prosperous and thriving town has been laid and the stability of the foundation can be credited to such men as those who are now retiring, who, although they have erred, can look back upon a clean record during the time they sat in council.

COMMUNICATIONS continue to come into the STAR office from those who are interested in the removal or otherwise retaining of the Wainwright buffalo and the latest communication of this kind appears with this issue from one of the district's most observing farmers. The line of argument he pursues in defence of the buffalo is by no means weak, but, with all due respect to what is said, this publication must continue to agitate in opposition to the stand this worthy farmer upholds and, believing as it does that Wainwright would be far better without the buffalo, pursue a course which will at least convince those in authority that the park is no longer desired.

Since the agitation was started some few weeks ago, the question as to whether or not the residents of this vicinity should offer protest has been widely discussed, and locally the majority favor their complete removal. The manner in which the land might be disposed of has also been the subject of much interesting discussion, some arguing that it should be thrown open for homestead entry, while others are of the opinion that it should be sold by the Dominion government at a small price per acre. It would appear to the STAR, however, that the chief point to decide at present and the main thing to be desired does not lie in the manner in which the land might be disposed of but in the question at stake, the removal of the buffalo and the land made use of for farming purposes. The manner in which it could be taken up would appear to be an after consideration.

Whether or not buffalo thrive near the mountains is a matter open for further discussion, and it would appear that if a certain few can live as they have at Banff the mountains are not such a bad place for them after all. The prairie is no doubt their natural home, but prairie land in western Canada is good farming land also and, when such an amount and area constitutes the park here must be reserved for buffalo alone, those who are looking for a place in which to carry on farming pursuits must draw their inference and in the case of Wainwright it may be that this inference is, that if, as the government says, the land is the park is good for no other purpose, the quality of the soil in the adjacent vicinity must be little better.

PRINCIPAL McLean has from the East. This is certainly completed a two year sojourn in good news, for during his journey in Wainwright and will brief stay here, Mr. McLean has leave shortly for other parts to form a host of warm friends, prepare for a position we understand he has been selected to hold. Mr. McLean's stay in principalship of the local school Wainwright, however, is not he is to be congratulated on over with, for he intimates that having been made the choice he will finally settle down in for the honorable office he is Wainwright when he returns about to fill.

HAVE YOU A DAIRY COW?

Local Papers in Saskatchewan Hand Out Advice to Farmers

The local papers of Saskatchewan, as well as the farm press, are drawing the attention of farmers to the profits of the dairy industry. The Viscount Sun says in part:

"Have you a dairy cow? If this question were asked our Saskatchewan farmers to-day 95 per cent. of them would have to answer in the negative. A dairy cow gives all the way from 6,000 to 30,000 pounds (costing from 3 to 5 per cent. better fat). At present figures, the ordinary milking animal costs from $60 to $80—the dairy cow from $150 to $200. An average milker gives 3,000 pounds of milk per year testing about 2.75 per cent. Your dairy cow gives at least 9,000 testing 3.75 per cent. If you sell milk you make $120 more from a dairy cow (6,000 pounds of milk at $2 per 100 pounds) and have all the skim milk from 6,000 pounds who will be sold to the hog pens. In short, you will have to stable, feed and care for three milkers to obtain the same results as from one dairy cow."

The Gull Lake Advertiser says: "What are you going to do with the products of your own fat?—your screenings, your sprouted shavings, your straw—the thousand and one accessories of the bountiful grain harvest? Burn them, you say! You must be rich, and if so, this is not for you. If not, utilize them at a profit. How?—by buying a few head of stock. Put that extra bushel per acre that a bountiful Providence and the fertility of Saskatchewan's soil has given you into a couple of cows, a few pigs or a few sheep. You can buy a first class milking cow for $50.00, three pure bred pigs, four pure bred or a dozen grade ewes for the same sum, and in the spring there will be additional dollars and cents every one. Beef as high as eleven cents on the hoof, pork up to nine and mutton up to six, live weight. Think of it."

BASIS OF BUSINESS

President Taft Says it is a Protective Tariff

One of the most striking features of the United States Presidential campaign is the tenacity with which the three candidates have adhered to the principle of moderate protection as a policy calculated to contribute materially to the national development of the country. In speaking on the tariff question last year President Taft said: "The business of the country rests on a protective tariff basis. The public keenly realize that a disturbance of business by a change in the tariff and a threat of injury to the industries of the country ought to be avoided, and that nothing could be so much to minimize the fear of destructive changes as the known existence of a reliable source of information or legislative action. The deep interest in the matter of an impartial ascertainment of facts before any new revision was evidenced by an effort to pass a tariff-commission bill in the first session of the Sixty-first Congress, in which many of both parties united."

In his reference to the Wilson tariff of 1891 which gave manufacturers, free wool but provided for duties on woolen manufactures the President said: "It is the only experience we have had for a generation of a radical revision of this schedule, and without exaggerating its importance, can be pledged to a moderate protection policy may well hesitate before giving approval without full information to legislation which makes a more radical reduction in the protective actually afforded to manufacturers of wool than did the Wilson Act."

THE WOOLLEN INDUSTRY

Its Expansion Desirable in the Interests of the Whole Country

It is significant to note that the sheep industry has dwindled rapidly since the introduction of the British preference which has resulted in closing a large number of woolen mills in different parts of the country. A partial solution would be to revise the tariff on woolen goods.

Dealing with the cheap industry, the Globe in a recent issue said: "Expansion of the woolen industry and sheep-raising industry in Canada is desirable in the interests of the whole country. There is a sure and constant market for wool, because there is nothing to adequately take its place. To every nation that has taken the industry seriously it has proved highly profitable, one of the best paying for the amount of work involved. Canada has natural conditions adapted to the raising of the finest wools and wool, as the negro attempts of our pioneers have proved, and we have proved, and we have plenty of waste land. As products of sheep there are not only wool and mutton but tallow as well."

WHY I AM RAISING HOGS

EDITOR FARMER'S ADVOCATE:

At present I am not in the business of rearing hogs because hogs are $9.00 per hundred five weight in Winnipeg, nor because they are likely to be anything like that price next fall. Neither am I in the hog business because the hog market or hog markets in Western Canada are at all perfect and conditions likely to remain in their apparently prosperous state for they will not. There are bound to be changes and they will be big changes in our present system of marketing and handling hogs before we can even anticipate the ideal. But I am in the hog business for the same reason that there is more money in hogs than in wheat. Not that I do not grow and sell wheat, but because I find that on the average about every fifth crop I harvest is feed—pig feed of the best kind—and I rear enough pigs to consume a large part of that feed. It is not a matter of guess-work and of stocking up with hogs every few years expecting a crop disaster, but a matter of figuring averages and averages of my neighbors, in much the same way that fire insurance and life insurance companies figure out their averages and fix their premiums to meet them. My hogs are something better than insurance against crop disaster, though, as they are a paying proposition every year.

Every year I have enough screenings from my grains to carry over my breeding stock for a year, and the fact that the crop is not damaged in all parts of the country in the same year I find it possible to secure good hog feed comparatively cheap every year. When my crop is damaged I at least double my breeding stock, selecting from those I intended to market and the following summer feed this increased stock from my bin of damaged grain.

I admit that it would be possible to buy up sows to breed the fall crop was damaged and feed their litters the following year and disperse with the hog until another damaged crop comes along, but the man who tries this plan will make very little money from hogs. Such a plan requires new quarters for hogs every few years, as unused buildings soon fall into ruin and the trough and other requirements for pig feeding will be lost in between bad seasons. Moreover, a man must be continually at any position to thoroughly understand it and conduct it economically. Rearing and feeding hogs is no exception. To make money out of hogs I find that I must, as it were, be experimenting with them constantly, yet making no radical change in their feeding. In this respect I think the demonstration and experimental farms do a great work. They are, I know, conducting experiments in cattle and sheep feeding, but what are they doing toward ascertaining the ideal ration for finishing even these classes of stock?

What I consider reduces the cost of production of pork to a minimum is the use of a pasture. Because hogs unlike other live stock will live on entire grain ration, farmers generally have come to believe that pasturage is unsuitable for hogs. On the contrary, they will relish a good pasture equally as well as cattle.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

ILL WITH APPENDICITIS

Mrs. Charles Cusack, formerly of this town, has recently undergone an operation for appendicitis in one of the Winnipeg hospitals and her many local friends will be glad to learn that it was successful.

Mr. Johnston Martin left on Tuesday for Toronto and other points in Ontario, where he will spend Christmas with friends. He will return here in the course of the next two months.

It is reported in business circles in the town that Mr. M. L. Forster has sold out his interests in the Killarney Hotel at Champlain to Messrs. Bulman Bros., the former managers.

Mr. G. H. Beaudry, accompanied by her little daughter, Claire, is visiting at the home of her father, Mr. N. P. Tangway—Sherbrooke Record.

Complaints have been heard among the businessmen of the town in connection with loose paper blowing about the streets. Farmers are also issuing complaints with the claim that their horses become frightened. Something should be done to put a stop to the too frequent practise of throwing paper on the streets.

A church of England service will be held at Mrs. Ford's, three miles north of Heath on Sunday next, commencing 12.30. Rev. H. A. Clark will officiate.

An exchange says that one trouble with this world is that there are too many people who will not cast their bread upon the waters unless they are assured that it will come back to them in a few days a full grown sandwich all trimmed with ham, butter and mustard.

On account of Rev. Mr. Clark's absence at Heath on Sunday morning next, there will be no morning service at the church of England here. Evening service will be held at the usual hour.

We wish to call the attention of the Public in general to the fact, that we have not gone out of business, but just changed the location of our yard. or sheep and will show grains, if pasturage and grain are fed together, cannot be realized on an entire grain ration.

With the prevailing farming methods in Western Canada, hog rearing should turn a profit to the producer at comparatively low selling prices. With the prices that have been obtainable throughout the past year, hog-rearing and finishing has been far more profitable than the unremunerative part of the farm.

CATTLE, SHEEP, HOGS, POULTRY

The Farmers of Central Alberta are Securing Big Returns From Mixed Farming

Mr. J. L. Porto, Publicity Commissioner for Central Alberta, in the course of an interview given in the Globe during the Toronto Exhibition, said:

"While Central Alberta can and does produce splendid crops of wheat, aggregating millions of bushels annually, the conditions are peculiarly favorable to mixed farming, and it is the advantage in this direction that render the district more desirable than other portions of the west and that have led our farmers into the safer ways of doing things. It is generally recognized by our farmers that where conditions are so favorable for growing grain, hay, roots and vegetables, for the production of fatter crops, and for the cheap handling of cattle, all on the same farm, better results can be obtained from mixed farming, under which the quality of the land improves, than that of exclusive wheat-growing, under which the land must inevitably deteriorate. "In the case of cattle, it is contended by our farmers that beef can be raised at less expense in Central Alberta than almost any other part of Canada. Mr. E. R. Sander of Dayland, who settled there from South Dakota, for several years has had from fifty to one hundred head of cattle and made a profit on every animal. He does not stifle them at all, letting them eat in the winter around the calf stacks, and he finds that in this way he has very little expense in fattening."

Dairying Making Men Rich

"As regards dairying, it is no less profitable, and I can give you a number of instances of where farmers have made a good thing out of it. Enquiry at the principal dairies in Edmonton showed that the average price for butter during the year was twenty-seven and three-quarter cents per pound. For January the average was thirty-one cents, and for February thirty-three cents. Mr. E. Sevigny of St. Albert during the year delivered eleven thousand five hundred and fifteen pounds of cream, for which he received $275.42. He kept at that time only twelve cows, which means he made a profit of $80.87 per cow. Mr. George Wilkerson, near Leuc, received altogether $2,143 for twenty-five thousand four hundred and eighty-seven pounds of milk shipped. This was the product of forty cows and meant an average of $54.11 per hundred pounds. Mr. A. J. Davis of Cherry Hill Farm at Clover Bar delivered one hundred and fifty thousand eight hundred and forty-nine pounds of milk to the Edmonton Dairy, for which he received $2,820. He obtained an average for the year of $120.50 from each cow."

Money in Hogs and Sheep

"Hog-raising, as a result of the dairying, is profitable and makes farmers every year are getting into pork production. Corn is not a successful crop in our section, but the farmers find barley a good substitute, and as prices for bacon remain high the year round there is a good margin left for the producer. Sheep are not raised extensively in our district, although every condition is there to make them profitable. Those who have gone into this branch of live stock husbandry have invariably been successful. The prices for mutton and wool are most attractive. Mr. E. A. Walker, in Strathcona district, formerly of Grant county, Ontario, is one of a number who are making well out of sheep. Mr. George F. Root of Red Deer, formerly of Iowa, brought over 2,625 lambs from Montana in October. These animals were in the worst possible condition, having been starved all summer in Montana. Notwithstanding this, however, Mr. Root's entire loss during the winter amounted to only nineteen head."

Poultry Pays

"Poultry-raising is advancing by leaps and bounds in our portion of Alberta. Those who have been making a specialty of poultry declare they can raise heavier birds at less expense than elsewhere, and with reasonable care they get satisfactory results in the way of eggs. The market for poultry and eggs is practically unlimited, and prices rule very high. Dressed poultry is readily saleable at from fourteen to twenty cents per pound, and eggs bring from twenty to thirty cents per dozen, though the market usually touches the lower figure for only a brief period. The railway companies report that more than 300 carloads of poultry products were shipped into Alberta in 1910. "The opportunities for making money in poultry are no greater than in the other lines of mixed farming to which our farmers have now turned, and which is, in fact, the very secret of their continued prosperity."

REDUCING THE COST

Mixed Farming Would Lower the Outlay on the Necessaries of Life

The Canadian Farm in a recent article makes a strong plea for mixed farming in the three Western provinces when it points out that the cost of living can be decreased by its adoption. The article is in part as follows:

"No country in the world should be able to produce 'better' or 'cheaper' meats than those grain-growing provinces. Poultry of all kinds do well and thrive on the waste of many farms where they are kept while milk and butter and cheese should be yielded in sufficient quantities to at least meet the local demands. Last year Manitoba alone exported upwards of 4,000,000 bushels of feed wheat besides a very large quantity of barley, while also imported more pork and mutton than she raised, and for months last winter Winnipeg imported milk from Minnesota. It is not because of difficulty in raising these products nor of the want of a good market for them that so few enter upon mixed farming. Nor is there a fear that the soil would be injured by taking up these branches of agriculture. Evidence from every hand points to the ease with which abundant yields are secured and meat-producing animals developed. Last year the Canadian Conservation Commission had surveyed lands of 40,000 acres of Manitoba made, and learned from the most dependable sources that yields are going back year by year, while weeds are increasing at an alarming rate. Nor is the remedy hard to find and to employ. It lies in extending the farming operations in the direction of producing the several necessities of life that are being imported in enormous quantities and to largely responsible for the high cost of living in the West."

The happiest farmer and the most contented, and really prosperous family, are those who find profitable employment six days a week the year through and are able to see the returns coming in week by week to meet the emergencies of life. Such men have a most interesting career. They are seldom troubled by gnawing debt, and never run the risk of protracted privation."

POULTRY METHODS

Below we give the record of a pen of nine White Orpingtons belonging to Mr. Frank Smith, a St. John's, Nfld., farmer, who consistently endeavored to produce the best result possible from his small flock. The record established does not furnish anything specially remarkable, but the account is interesting, if for no other reason than that each pen was named, and the owner has been able to give the time each commenced to lay and the number of eggs laid up to a stated time. Mr. Smith states that at the time these pullets started laying it was from 30 to 34 degrees below zero. In January he received 97 eggs from the five oldest. Following is the interesting record:

	At 1 yr. old.	At 1 yr. 7 wks.

Diana ..	71	89
Mamie ..	61	89

AN ANECDOTE ON THE COST OF LIVING

"The high prices secured by the farmer at present for his produce are brought prominently to the front by the following anecdote from an American exchange:

"A Kansas farmer, so the story goes, came into town to buy a new wagon. The dealer made a price of $70, to which the farmer objected, saying that he had purchased the same style and make of wagon many years before for $60. The dealer explained that the advance in the price was due to higher cost of materials, etc., but the farmer was not convinced. After a lengthy argument it developed that the farmer ten years before had paid for the $60 wagon with 600 bushels of corn; corn at that time bringing ten cents per bushel. "I will tell you what I will do," said the dealer. "You give me 600 bushels of corn for this $70 wagon and I will make you a present of the best ramper in my stock, your choice of surreys, and you can bring your wife down and I will make her a present of the best kitchen range I have in the place, and will fit her kitchen up complete with new dishes and cooking utensils. Is it a bargain?" "It wasn't."

WAINWRIGHT IS HOME OF LARGEST HERD OF BUFFALO IN WORLD

Wainwright's Park Takes up
More than 110,000 Acres and 1200 Buffalo
Are in It

Whenever Wainwright is spoken of in the outside world, the town is recalled, for since the early days of the town it has been known as the home of the largest herd of buffalo in the world, hence the name by which it has become accustomed to be termed, "The Buffalo Town".

About the time that the steel was going through this section of Alberta, the Dominion Govt. conceived an idea. The country should have a park in which these former monarchs of the plains could be preserved. The bargain between Michael Pablo and the government was struck and the task of transporting the animals from Montana to Canada was begun. Wainwright was selected as the home of these animals, and one hundred and ten thousand acres of land, two miles from town, were fenced off. The first shipment consisted of several hundred and until a year ago the balance of the contract number were being brought here.

At the present time there are no less than twelve hundred bison in the local park. The animals have increased at a remarkably rapid rate since the original herd was unloaded. Last year the increase amounted to nearly two hundred, while during 1912 the increase was more than this number. Deer, moose, elk and antelope are also to be found within the confines of the park.

Commissioner of Dominion Parks, Mr. Howard Douglas, was instrumental in having the animals brought to Canada, but who was responsible for having them located near Wainwright is something no one in the vicinity of Wainwright shows any inclination to take credit for. Mr. Edward Ellis, who was stationed at Banff, where a few animals were in captivity, was transferred here and took over the position of superintendent. With a change in the government last year both he and his chief were removed from office and were succeeded by the present superintendent, Mr. W. E. D. McTaggart and Commissioner P. C. B. Hervey.

An agitation is at present on foot to have the animals removed from Wainwright, for it is admittedly evident that the park cuts off an area from the district which is all together too large. The only way in which Wainwright has profited through the animals being here lies in the publicity the town has received.

Supt. W. E. McTaggart states that the buffalo this year have very short hair and in fact so little of the winter growth has yet appeared that it is questionable whether or not the doomed bulls will be killed off. Mr. McTaggart cites this as a sign of an open winter and states that the sign has not been observed for years.

ONE TWO MILES OUT

Buy in the Original Townsite First Says Board of Trade

No resident of this vicinity will deny that Wainwright, like all other towns throughout the west, has its subdivisions and that in certain instances they have done a great deal of harm to the town itself. South of the town and immediately back of the G. T. P. shops is South Wainwright. East of town lie the Wainwright Annex and East Wainwright. Northwest and immediately north is Central Park and far beyond the limits of what is being offered for sale by the International Securities Co. lies Woodland Park, the poorest investment in the shape of lots for anyone under the light of the sun, and especially at this time.

WHAT THESE REALLY ARE
South Wainwright makes up a half section and is the north part of 30 11 6. Practically all the lots in this subdivision have been sold and in this connection it is interesting to note that several local parties have made purchases from the National Townsite & Colonization Co. of lots in South Wainwright. Investment in this locality is comparatively good and the subdivision is looked upon by local people in a much different light than a year ago. Once buildings are erected and a crossing secured, the enterprise of the company would indicate that a movement would take place. $35,000 was recently voted for improvements in South Wainwright to commence as soon as possible.

The Wainwright Annex is owned by the Wainwright Realty Co. and was the first subdivision placed on the market. It adjoins the town on the east and is a natural location for residences when the town grows. The secretary of the local board of trade has made a purchase in the Wainwright Annex and this should attach some importance to the value of buys in this subdivision. An endeavour has been made on repeated occasions to have the spur track near the Wainwright Annex taken out and when this is done residences will likely be built.

As for Central Park and Woodland Park very little of good can be said. Especially is this true of the latter, for it is about two miles from town and raw land lies between it and the town. Woodland Park offers very poor investment for anyone and from a speculative standpoint is almost as bad, for anyone who has seen the property would not make any very extensive purchases. Central Park is not a great distance from town but it is practically certain that no movement will take place in that locality for years.

Buying in the original townsite is something more than mere speculation. It is sound investment and on repeated occasions has the local board of trade advised purchases to buy first in the town limits, where property values are by no means inflated and in the immediate vicinity of which, and perhaps adjoining the lot which can be bought at a price not greater than those in the subdivisions, buildings are going up, which tend to increase the value of vacant property.

MIXED FARMING GAINING FAVOUR AT WAINWRIGHT

Grain-Growing Not the Success
Farmers Would Like to See

PROFIT IN HOG RAISING

Dairy Cows Being Brought into District in Great Number

Farming in the Wainwright district is but in its infancy and so far as grain-growing is concerned it must be admitted that in certain of its branches the industry has not been successfully carried on, due to an extent to the fact that little attention is given to it. The seasons of the year are not properly marked. Farmers who profess to know what grain-growing really is set a poor example for those who follow. But Wainwright's farmers have nothing to complain of, for diversified farming is being successfully followed.

WHAT MIXED FARMING IS

Diversified, or what is commonly known as mixed, farming means a great deal to Wainwright, for it's yet not nearly a sufficient percentage of the district's rich virgin soil has been broken up to keep away the early frosts which are prevalent all over this section of Alberta. The history of the experiences in Manitoba are being repeated and will be repeated until such time as farmers go into the grain-growing properly and break up all of their land. Mixed farming holds the most prominent place and farmers are gradually coming to the conclusion that a few cows, the raising of horses, hog-raising and poultry are more profitable from a farming standpoint than wheat, oats, barley and flax. But this does not mean that grain cannot be raised or should not be sown. In case of crop failure, the grain can always be made use of and fed to the live stock about the farm.

SHEEP BEING RAISED

A few of the more wealthy farmers have taken the initiative and are raising sheep. The industry has proved anything but an experiment, for those who have their flocks maintain that they are getting bountiful returns on their investments. Thousands of sheep are to be found in the immediate vicinity of Wainwright and are allowed to graze unmolested over the unoccupied land which is to be found. Others have expressed their determination of purchasing a few sheep and following the same line which has proved so successful to those who now own hundreds.

OAT RAISING IN WAINWRIGHT'S DISTRICT

A FIELD OF WHEAT NEAR WAINWRIGHT

MONEY IN DAIRY COWS

The evidence of numerous farmers purchasing dairy cows is proof of the fact that grain-growing has already taken a second place. Within the last few months no less than three hundred dairy cows have been brought into the district. Cream is being sold to the Edmonton City Dairy at a figure which would surprise the ordinary farmer. Hundreds of dollars are being spent in the town as a consequence and the time is not far distant when the hundreds will become thousands.

THE RAISING OF HOGS

One of the most important branches of mixed farming

however, is observed in raising hogs. The Alberta hog market is at present at a very high figure, due entirely to the inability of the packing plants to secure the amount they require. Local butchers have shipped many carloads of hogs from the town during the past few months and the profits are remaining in both town and district. One farmer in particular has done nothing else but raise hogs since he settled down on his one hundred and sixty acres. He was a poor man when he started. He now boasts of $3,000 worth of buildings, live stock to the value of $1,000, his quarter section clear of all encumbrances and money in the bank, and all this in the short space of five years.
